

“Kings of Narizinho” /Monteiro Lobato/

This book contains several funny stories, which take place in Sítio do Picapau Amarelo. They are about the adventures of Narizinho, Pedrinho, Emília, Visconde de Sabugosa, Dona Benta and Aunt Nastácia in a wonderful and magical farm.

I really enjoyed this book, because when I read it, I imagine that I am one of those funny characters living in a magical place.

“House at the bottom of the sea”

/Lucia Tumiati/

Star lives in the depths of the sea with her mother. Her father lives on the mainland with his new family. One day Star meets and falls in love with a tender and cute boy Roberto. Her father tries to persuade her to stay with him on the mainland, showing her all the advantages of the big city. But she decides to stay with her mother and to see Roberto only in summer.

I like the theme of friendship and love; and the intelligent choices Star makes.

“Matilda” /Roald Dahl/

I like this book because Matilda is a truly charming, independent and robust little girl. Matilda is amazing. She learned to read by herself at the age of 3, and this is what she loves doing the best.

In her home reading is considered a worthless activity, and there is no books, Matilda regularly visits the library. After Matilda has read all children’s books she starts reading “serious” books. Unfortunately, at home the girl is constantly belittled, insulted and humiliated by her parents. When Matilda starts school, she meets a sympathetic young teacher who helps her a lot.

If you want to get to know Matilda, just read the book.
